

Says

The constitution of India allows for a maximum of 550 members in the house, with 530 members representing the States and 20 representing the Union Territories.

The Lok Sabha comprises of a total of 545 seats.

At present, the Lok Sabha has 543 seats filled by elected representatives

The remaining two seats are filled by nomination of representatives of the Anglo-Indian Community.

Thinks

The 17th Lok Sabha or lower house of India's bicameral parliament was elected based on the results of the world's biggest election conducted in the summer of 2019.

This was the largest democratic and the most expensive election in the world.

The voting trend followed the pattern of the previous election in 2014.

Lok Sabha election in 2019

The Election Commission of India recognises parties based on their performance in previous elections.

The elections provides the power in the hands of the people.

Lok Sabha exercises control over the executive more effectively than Rajya Sabha because it is a directly elected body.

Democracy runs like a golden thread in the social, economic and political fabric woven by the constitution.

The Lok Sabha is more powerful than the Rajya Sabha.

this election an increased participation of women's. It shows the development of women's.

Does

Feels

